Author Talk: "Death Ride, A Little Boy's Night of Terror" – 6:30 p.m. – Shadle Library, 2111 W. Wellesley. In the late afternoon of November 26, 1937, the Kuntz family — Mike, Frieda, and their son, five-year-old Larry — had just finished their evening dinner blessing. Suddenly, there was a knock at the front door. When Mike opened it, he was instantly confronted by an enraged Frank Robideau, who shouldered his way into the kitchen with a gun in his hand. Within minutes, he ordered the Kuntz family outside to their car, stating: "We're all going for a drive." That would be that last drive Mike and Frieda would ever take. It would also turn into an everlasting nightmare for Larry, who was about to watch his mother and father brutally murdered by his best friend's father. Tim and Becky Hattenburg's presentation focuses on their extensive research on the book. Larry Kuntz, the subject of the book, is a local resident of Spokane.
