Spokane Public Library announces a celebration of learning and connection through Library Learning Week

(SPOKANE, WASH.) – Join Spokane Public Library for their first-ever Library Learning Week – a vibrant and diverse series of events designed to inspire learning, creativity, and community engagement. From Monday, January 22, to Sunday, January 28, participants of all ages are invited to join a variety of free events, ranging from educational workshops to recreational activities.

“Library Learning Week aims to encourage individuals to cultivate new skills, explore hobbies, flex their entrepreneurial muscles, and foster community connections,” said Community Engagement Manager Jason Johnson. “With an array of events scheduled throughout the week, there is something for everyone.”

Participants who attend Library Learning Week events will have their names entered into a drawing for a chance to win one of three eReaders generously donated by the Spokane Public Library Foundation.
